A Message from the Director

Dear IAA Community,

My heartiest congratulations goes to our U18 girls' basketball champions who played last weekend and managed to win all matches.

Prior to the February break, 15 Grade 9-11 students completed the Youth Leadership Program offered by Toastmasters International. During the final ceremony, they each delivered an inspirational speech that touched the heart of everyone in the audience. Congratulations to our young speakers who have unlocked their speaking potential and started their professional journey in eloquent speaking.

This week, the Ministry of Education released their latest trips/visits amendments. The regulations restrict trips/visits to many places including forests, valleys, adventurous parks and wetland areas, just to name a few. We will look at alternative venues in order to enrich education beyond the classroom.

Speaking of enrichment, we recently acquired 'Encyclopaedia Palestinnica', the largest documented academic work in the history of Palestine published to date. It contains previously unpublished information, documents, photographs and drawings that make it one of the most important publications on Palestine in the last one hundred years. We will be inviting the author, Dr. Mohammad Ghosheh to IAA. Stay tuned for more information from the Libraries.

We have a busy week ahead with the World Scholar's Cup this weekend, Career's Day and the CIS Middle East Institute Conference that will be held at IAA next week. The latter event is expected to bring over 75 university recruiters from all over the world.

As every year, IAA staff are taking part in this year's Teacher Skills Forum which will happen at Dead Sea this weekend. An initiative of Queen Rania Teacher Academy, the forum has gained regional and international recognition for its unique approach that focusses on teachers and classroom needs in order to enhance education quality. IAA staff will be exploring and sharing experiences with some of the world's most renowned educators and scholars. We are certain that this in turn will reflect in your child's classroom.

It gives me great pleasure to announce that I was appointed as a member of the Board of Trustees for the Alliance for International Education (AIE). AIE brings together all those who are committed to advancing international and intercultural understanding through education and promotes collaborative ventures that enhance the learning of relevant concepts, skills and values. Internationally, I will continue to serve as Vice Chair at the Council of International Schools (CIS) and locally, I will remain on the Queen Rania Foundation board, the National School Classification Committee and the National Curriculum Review Centre. Being a member in these renowned institutions, representing Jordan abroad at the school and college levels, will certainly nourish the international educational system at IAA through that remarkable exchange and networking. This has put IAA on the international map, positioning it as a well-recognised international educational institute that supports education through its open-mindedness and exposure to the key players in education. It has opened more avenues to IAA to experiment, exchange and even influence general educational policies.

Finally, I will be available on Tuesday from 8-9am for the open meeting at my office for those who wish to see me.

Primary School News

Dear Parents,

I hope that you kept warm over the rather wet and chilly weekend.

Last Bake Sale

Given the challenges that many in the Kingdom faced due to the extreme weather, it is appropriate that Thursday was set aside for our fundraising day. The students raised close to 1,200 JD, which they have assigned to “Hands-On Hope”, a local community service and humanitarian NGO providing critical support to those suffering from poverty and hardship.

Science Fair

This week, Ms Rene’ and the respective Grade 3-5 teams are running Parent Workshops in preparation for the upcoming Science Fair. While students should be able to complete all facets of their experiments and associated presentations independently, we know that parents are keen to support their children where possible. The Science Fairs will take place as follows:

Grade 3: Monday, 15th April

Grade 4: Tuesday, 16th April

Grade 5: Wednesday, 17th April

Teachers Skills Forum

This weekend, we have a considerable number of teachers presenting at the Teacher Skills Forum. This is Jordan’s premier professional development conference for educators and is held under the patronage of Her Majesty Queen Rania. While this event is an opportunity for our teachers to contribute to the professional learning of their colleagues at other schools, it is also an opportunity for IAA to showcase the incredible teaching and learning that is taking place at our school.

Momo Challenge

Various news sites and social media posts have recently drawn attention to the “Momo Challenge”, which often depicts a grotesque figure and warnings about children being encouraged to self-harm. Although such allegations have not been proven, the numerous warnings and rumours, accompanied by the disturbing picture can certainly trigger very real feelings of fear and anxiety. Our teachers have been briefed by Ms Maria about ways to support their students should this be talked about by children in class. As always, we will continue to help our students navigate the increasingly complex medium that the Internet presents through planned and responsive activities.

An independent article from Forbes about the Momo Challenge is featured below:

Secondary School News

Dear Parents,

We hope that you were able to enjoy some quality family time during the February break which now seems a long time ago. The last week was great for Jordan with all the rain, but the conditions were unable to dampen our enthusiasm for events at school. Last week we had:

International Mathematics Competition – University of Waterloo

The IAA Maths club, MATHLETHICS@IAA, registered IAA in an international mathematics competition sponsored by the University of Waterloo, which includes participants from all over the globe. It was held on the 27th of February, and over 100 IAA students took part! We eagerly await the results.

SRC Talent Show

The SRC organised and ran the first talent show since three years, with acts from Grades 6 to 11. It was an entertaining afternoon. The ‘troika’ of judges looked amazing, and it took some quite a while to work exactly which teachers were disguised by the “fancy” dress and exaggerated accents. A huge thank you to all who participated and especially to those talents (singers, dancers, musicians, comics, artists and others) who went out of their comfort zones to entertain on Wednesday afternoon.

Grade 9 Arabic Assembly on 'A Doll's House'

The Arabic Department and Grade 9 took their learning of the famous play by Ibsen, The Doll's House, which explores issues of female equality and emancipation to give it a contextual slant and consider issues that are current in Jordan. The special assembly also benefited from the insight of Dr. Salma Nims, who spoke with passion and depth of the progress made and the challenges still to be overcome to bring real equality for all to society in Jordan.

Civvies and Bake Sale

We had the Civvies and Bake Sale, organised by the G10s, on Thursday February 28th. The Grade 10s will be donating proceeds of the Bake Sale, over 500JD, to the rehabilitation of the Oncology Department at Al-Bashir Hospital, as part of the "Himmatna" campaign, to achieve better quality services for all cancer patients.

Hawks under 18's Girls Basketball – CHAMPIONS!

This was a busy weekend for our all star girls basketball team. Three matches were played back to back on Saturday and we won them all. What stood out for those watching was the grit and determination showed by the players who, at times, had to dig deep and compete hard to stay in the game and then how students from Grade 7 to 12 played with such team spirit and togetherness. It was truly inspiring to watch.

Looking forward to the weeks ahead!

MUN - Asriyya and King's Academy

The Asriyya MUN conference took place this past weekend. Our Grades 8, 9 and 10 once again served as delegates and chairs for various countries and developed their skills of diplomacy and argumentation through discussion about significant global and regional issues. Only one MUN remains this year from March 14th to 16th, hosted by the King's Academy focussing on their theme of "Shift the Paradigm".

Grade 10 and 11 Careers Day, Tuesday 5th March

On Tuesday, we have a number of specialists from a great variety of fields coming to school to discuss their work with our students. The day will take the form of interactive presentations followed by Q & A. We hope our students will gain further insight into professions they have an interest in. For Grade 10, this information may well prove to be useful when thinking about their work placements later in the year.

World Scholar's Cup

We have a large number of students from Grades 6 to 10 participating on March 7th to the 8th in the World's Scholars Cup. The WSC has a comprehensive, thematic curriculum that changes from year to year. It invites participants to learn about, research and debate serious global issues based on the theme "A World on the Margins". It focusses on collaboration and critical thinking and encourages students not just to work on their existing strengths and skills, but to discover new ones. All the best to our students in their preparations for the upcoming WSC. A reminder that training sessions take place after school Monday and Wednesday this week (3.20pm – 4.15pm).

SAT Tests

Good luck to all our students sitting their SAT tests on March 9th. Many in Grade 11 have already made a solid start to getting scores they are happy with. We hope that many more will achieve their hoped for targets this weekend and be finished with this part of the US University application process.

CIS Middle East Institute – 16th March

As part of the IAA hosted CIS School and University Counsellor conference that is bringing over 150 delegates to IAA from all over the world, there will be a special session at which over 75 University Recruiters from all over the world will be available for parents. This will take place on the 16th March from 2.30 to 4.30 pm. An email was sent to parents of Grades 9 to 11 with information about this, if you did not see it, please check your inboxes!

The latest disturbing news from teenage social media

It has come to our attention that there is a new ‘challenge’ game programme doing the rounds. This one is called ‘Momo’ (a quick internet search will pull up lots of stories – some more sensational than others) and seems to be spliced into WhatsApp, Fortnite and other popular platforms to avoid detection. The challenge itself does urge those participating to self harm and worse. We do advise that parents remain vigilant and perhaps discuss this with their family. Unfortunately, it would appear those creating content for our children do not always have the best of intentions!

Yours sincerely,

Mr. Martin and Ms. Zena

Sports News

The IAA Hawks Girls Basketball U18 team participated in the most recent “Wings of Hope” championship that was held last weekend.

The girls showed tremendous character in all their matches, winning all to become champions in their first ever participation during this tournament. The girl athletes showed an ability to command games under pressure.

A huge thank you goes to the organisers, staff, referees and coaches as well as parents and spectators for their support.

Library News

The IAA Libraries are proud to house a new collection, the Encyclopaedia Palestinnica, the most important documentary work of Palestine in 100 years. At 24 large-sized volumes, this is the largest documented academic work on Palestine world-wide. Dr. Mohammad Ghosheh has spent 20 years of meticulous research to gather over 7,000 pages and 30,000 drawings, images, documents and maps that tell the history of Palestine between 1516 and 1918. Dr. Ghosheh will work with students from Grades 9-11, teaching them the importance of primary documents and the process of research used in creating this phenomenal collection. The encyclopaedia was first brought to the attention of Dr. Hana by Ms. Sana’ Shaban, Head of Secondary Humanities, and Ms. Muna Darwish who attended a viewing of the work and had the vision for introducing it to students as a way to promote cultural heritage as well as enhance their understanding of primary sources and the role of research in academic scholarship.

The Secondary Library is keen to promote newly created reading lists across all subject areas for Grades 6-8. Secondary teachers, students and parents should all have access to these lists via the library Destiny Discover catalog system. Categories cover a range from books about science and history to contemporary, historic and even some classic fiction. We are also excited about a new reading initiative in the library, called 'Fortnite in a Fortnite'. We have selected around 60 books that would be of interest to students who enjoy playing the popular online game. Students who choose one of the recommended "Fortnite" books will have 2 weeks, a fortnite, to read the book. Special prizes to those who survive the challenge! The challenge begins Sunday, 3 March.

Throughout the month of March, the Primary and KG libraries will be discussing the story of Ivan, the gorilla. Ivan: The Remarkable True Story of the Shopping Mall Gorilla is a nonfiction picture book (Interest level: K-3) based on the true story of a young gorilla who was captured in Africa and grew up on display in a shopping mall in Tacoma, Washington. The story is told simply and beautifully, from Ivan's happy days with his family in the jungle to his confinement at the mall to his transfer to a more natural habitat in a zoo in Atlanta. G. Brian Karas' illustrations are as moving and sensitive as the text. Author Katherine Applegate won the 2013 Newbery Medal for her fictionalised middle grade novel (age 8+) on the same subject, The One and Only Ivan, which is written from the gorilla's point of view. The books can serve as a thoughtful jumping-off point for family discussions about animals and our relationship to nature. Bonus: there is a movie for the book in production at Disney!

May I join in with Mr. Andrew in urging parents to attend the Elementary Science Fair Parent Information Sessions next week? Ms. Melinda will be introducing you to various resources the library has invested in for helping students find ideas, information, images and inspiration for the best projects to date. Ms. Dima and the Primary Library staff can be especially helpful to you in learning to use the online resources Britannica School as well as Rosen PowerKnowledge Life Sciences database, which will introduce students to research skills and information literacy whilst helping them complete their projects.

Finally, I would like to announce that the Secondary Library will have Extended Study Hours for Seniors during mock exams and exams. This is after 30% of Seniors surveyed responded positively to using the library during this somewhat stressful time. It is a pleasure to work in a library that is responsive to the needs and suggestions of its student body. The new hours are listed below:

Extended Library Hours for G12 Mock Exam Study

24 March through 3 April

7:30am to 5pm

Sunday through Wednesday

Extended Library Hours for G12 Exams

5 May through 23 May (Ramadan Timings)

8:30am to 4:30pm

Sunday through Wednesday
